Storytelling Plenum Pierre Walther & Catherine von Graffenried, fast4meter, Berne The module offers you a fine blend of the theory and practice of storytelling along the following themes: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How stories work: The difference to telling facts 2. Telling a story well 3. How to use story power? In Unit 3, we will exchange experiences and discuss examples (presentations, written reports etc.) You are welcome to bring along your own poster or PPT slides!	How to write a good paper Group room 1 Melanie Mettler, World Trade Institute, University of Berne The module starts with a short introduction to the basics of academic English and to self-editing skills. Then you are up for a 1,5-hour workshop on an essay/subchapter (2-3 pages, unedited) that you had pre-submitted to the teacher and got back from her, corrected and commented on. You will first self-edit that same text based on what you have been taught in the morning session and then compare your own corrections with those the teacher has made to identify difficulties and areas to work on in the future.
